MARKET SCARE ON SUGAR STOCK STRIKES EUROPE

Willett & Gray's Journal for June 27 reviews the raw sugar market in part as follows:

The week under review may be classed as a European market scare, pure and simple, due to the improved outlook for world's supplies, and the effect on this side has been the checking of the beginning of an improvement here by the payment of 1-32c per lb. advance on one day, which has been entirely lost and values returned to the previous 2-12c c. & f. basis, with a movement to a lower level.

The special weak movement in Europe began from the quotation of last week when beet sugar was 11s. 9 3-4d. The first day's decline was 1-12d. to 11s. 8 1-4d. The second day saw 2-1-4d. decline to 11s. 6d. The next gave 1-1-2d. more to 11s. 4 1-2d. on Monday, 2-1-4d. more on Tuesday, 3d. more Wednesday to 10s. 11 1-4d.

Today the quotation is 10s. 9 3-4d., showing a full shilling decline for week (22c. per lb.) and bringing beets at Hamburg to parity of 4.28c. per lb. for centrifugals at New York against nominal values here of 3.85c. per lb.

The decline in Europe during the past four weeks has amounted to 1s. 5 1-4d. on prompt beet and 10 1-2d. on October-December beet.
Cane Javas Sympathetic.
Cane Javas also show a sympathetic movement of 6d. decline to 11s. 9d., which is equal to 2.47c. net c. f. & i. to Liverpool, against Cubas at 2.52c. c. f. & i. to Liverpool, bringing Javas below the parity of value of centrifugals in Cuba for shipment to the U. K., thus leaving remaining supplies from the Cuba crop at the disposal of the U. S. refiners, and new crop Java sugars available for the U. K. in place of Cubas.

Javas for the U. S. are approaching closer to the parity of Cubas and may enter into competition a little later on, but not now, 10s. 9d. being asked for July shipment (September arrival), equal to 4.08c. landed.
The Cuba crop continues to make progress toward a bumper crop of 1-850,000 tons or more, notwithstanding the rainy season and local insurrections.

European beet crops show favorable progress in all directions and, no doubt, has much to do with the weakness of prices abroad.

The outcome of sugar legislation is so uncertain that it affects the value, particularly of the large stock of Philippine Island sugars still unshipped. Sellers are anxious to realize and buyers do not respond. Offerings of sugars at 3.10c. per lb., basis 38 degrees, for shipment not meeting business, bids of 3c. per lb. are solicited. Buyers, however, limit their possible buying to nearby cargoes on account of tariff uncertainty.

Unable to Operate.
Many refiners in Germany and Austria are unable to operate for want of raw material pending the harvesting of the new crops. There is a stock of Hungarian raws at Fiume, but being declared for export, can not be used at home, and of the 61,000 tons beet at Hamburg there are 12,500 tons German sugars which German refiners are seeking permission to reimport.

Such apparent deficiencies in supplies cause the premium on prompt deliveries, which will disappear when new crop sugars are available.

It is well to note that new crop beet quoted at 9s. 9d. is the parity of 4.04c. for centrifugals, and if we should be compelled to import full duty sugars in quantity later on our market should rise closely to that parity. But if we can get along with privileged sugars the limit of decline here should be to about 3d. less or to 3.70c. for 96-degree test, with Europe remaining firm. There is a possibility, however, that we will need a few Javas this year, perhaps not enough to bring the two markets together.

Cable News

ROOSEVELT WOULD SLASH THE TARIFF

NEW YORK, July 10.—Roosevelt, cheered by the news of several happenings which on the surface appeared to favor his candidacy, issued his first campaign pronouncement from Sagamore Hill, his Oyster Bay home, tonight. He declared, as Governor Wilson has already done, for an investigation of the high cost of living and incidentally asserted that he stands for a sweeping revision of the tariff downward, to meet the needs of the consumers of the nation.

He resolved, but declined comment upon the news from Reno that his followers there had launched the third party in Nevada by filing Roosevelt petitions, and that the third party had also been launched at Des Moines, Iowa. The reports from Des Moines that the State convention there had rebuked Taft and the Taft managers for fraud at the recent Republican convention, and had proved in other ways a decided Roosevelt victory, drew only a smile and nothing more from the man most concerned.

Nor would he say anything to the statement issued by Senator A. B. Cummins in the Iowa convention, in which the senator after introducing a resolution calling for the probing of Taft's nomination by the Chicago convention, asserted he would bolt if it could be proved that the nomination had been made through fraud, but that otherwise he would support the President.

TELLS HORROR OF BEING BURIED ALIVE SIX DAYS

Chicago Man Rescued from an Attic Prison, Slowly Recovering

CHICAGO, July 2.—Slowly recovering under the care of physicians and the nursing of his sister, Louis Havers was able to recount today the horrors of being buried alive for six days without food or water. He had just arisen from a long illness and wandered to the garret. Roofers repairing a leak did not notice him asleep in a dark corner and locked the attic trap door when they departed. They also closed the stairway door on his cries were not heard in the rooms below. He vainly beat upon the floor and found that his exertions had weakened him, and a cloud of dust, the accumulation of years, and the heat overcame him and he believes he fainted. Here is the story of what followed as he tells it:

"The first I recall was when I was aroused. I could not imagine where I was or how I got there. I was thirsty and my lips and tongue were swollen. I could not tell how long I had been there. I was covered with dust and I nearly blinded myself in trying to rub the dust off my face."

DIED.

HARTMAN.—In Honolulu. Charles Harold, son of Martin L. and Marie Hartman, Kaimuki. Age 14. Funeral today at 4 p. m. from Silva's undertaking parlors. Interment will be made at Nuanu Cemetery.

Four big battleships, just less than dreadnoughts in size and power of offense, by order of Acting Secretary Winthrop, yesterday were placed on the reserve list. They are the Illinois, berthed at Boston; Kentucky, at Norfolk; Alabama, at New York; and Kearsarge, at Philadelphia.

PYTHIAN BANQUET OPENS ADDITION TO MAUI HOTEL

WAILUKU, Maui, July 9.—One of the pleasant social functions of the year was the opening of the addition to the Maui Hotel of which popular "Billy" Field is proprietor. The opening occurred on Saturday night, June 29, and the occasion was the elaborate supper prepared for the Knights of Pythias Lodge. Every member of the fraternity who could possibly get to Wailuku was there. The dinner was delicious and the speeches were of the usual high order enjoyed by that lodge. The tables were very well laid out, and the brothers sat in a large open square—a method of arrangement very popular in the States just at present.

The electric lights were turned on at the hotel for the first time that evening, and all were most enthusiastic over the future possibilities of the addition for such social functions.

Manager Field has certainly spared no money or pains in making the new portion of the hotel up to date in every particular. The screened section will be especially pleasing, and the new garden in front of the dining hall will make the place one of the beauty spots of Wailuku.

SIREN LURES HIM INTO SEA

SAN FRANCISCO.—A. W. Geiger, a Boston mining engineer, who arrived here yesterday on the liner Tenyo Maru, risked his life in Yokohama harbor to say goodbye to a fair young Australian heiress. He ruined a suit of clothes and swallowed a few gallons of salt water. He proved himself a poor jumper, but a gallant suitor.

The young woman that inspired the leap was a Miss Gregory, who, accompanied by a chaperon, was making a tour of the Orient. She boarded the Tenyo at Hongkong for Yokohama. Geiger was very attentive to the young woman during the trip and promised to show her and her escort the sights of Yokohama if they would permit him to be their escort.

Notice was given that, pending an investigation of the suspicious case, only those passengers who were leaving the ship at Yokohama would be allowed to go ashore. As the launch bearing Miss Gregory and her chaperon left the ship's side Miss Gregory shook a dainty finger at the disconsolate Geiger.

"You promised to be our escort," she said, "and you told me that men from Boston never broke a promise." "What could poor Geiger do? He couldn't swim, and he was arrayed as the escort of a pretty girl should be. He looked at the moving launch. He glanced at his patent leather shoes and carefully pressed tweeds.

"I'm coming. Look out!"
As he yelled, he jumped. The launch was not there, and as the little brown men on a nearby sampan fished him out of the tide, he heard Miss Gregory remark to her chaperon:

"Oh, aunt, doesn't he look funny."
